MRS. W. C. CRAWFORD IS SERIOUSLY INJURED

Driver of Car and Wife in Hospital and Are Still Unconscious

While returning from a sight seeing tour through the Bad Lands, a car driven by W. F. Burnett, attorney of Dickinson, filled with delegates to the annual meeting of the State Federation of Women's clubs, turned completely over and landed on its wheels again. The six occupants were all seriously injured. The spill occurred Tuesday evening at 3 p. m., on the road five miles west of Dickinson. Mr. and Mrs. Burnett were most seriously injured. When picked up, he had an ugly gash in his head and both he and his wife were unconscious. Mr. Burnett had not recovered consciousness this morning, and it is not known just the full extent of his injuries. Mrs. Burnett's collarbone and wrist were broken. Mrs. W. C. Crawford, wife of Judge Crawford, suffered serious bruises about the head and body. Mrs. Jones of Beach, badly bruised about the head and body. Mrs. Lovell, Beach, left arm broken and body badly bruised. Mrs. Foster, Beach, badly bruised. All the injured are receiving attention at the Dickinson hospital with the exception of Mrs. Crawford and Mrs. Jones, who are being cared for at the home of Judge Crawford. The women visitors were being entertained yesterday afternoon on a tour of the Bad Lands. Burnett's car was traveling at a good speed when it turned over to allow a car driven by Dr. Stickney to pass. Just at this time a tire blew out and the big seven passenger car hurtled through the air, making a complete revolution and righting itself in the ditch at the side of the road. The guests were thrown out and most of them, when picked up by cars following, were unconscious. Immediately cars were vacated to rush the injured to the Dickinson hospital. Burnett's car was a powerful, seven passenger machine which he had purchased recently from the estate of the late James Caldwell. While the condition of several of the women is serious, it is believed that all will recover.

HEFLIN STARTS ANOTHER ROW

Washington, Oct. 3.—The protracted wrangle over charges by Rep. Hefflin of Alabama that certain members of congress have "acted suspiciously" in the present war, flared up again in the house today when Rep. Mason of Illinois made a speech contending that Hefflin had inferentially charged Mason with treason and linked him up with Emma Goldman.

Hefflin requested consent of the house for time to reply to Mason's remarks and to name the men he thought had "acted suspiciously," but objection was made by Rep. Garner and the row, for the time being, was brought to an end.

BOSTON OFFICER KILLED IN FRANCE

Washington, Oct. 3.—Lieutenant G. P. Howe of the Boston medical officers' reserve corps was killed in action Sept. 28, while on duty with British forces in France, the adjutant general announced today.

AMERICAN DESTROYER IS IN COLLISION

Washington, Oct. 3.—An American destroyer, in British waters, recently was in collision with a British naval vessel, which after taking off the American crew, towed the disabled destroyer safely to port. In announcing the collision today, the navy department said no one was injured aboard the American destroyer and that the vessel had been repaired and restored to active duty.

An official inquiry developed that the collision was unavoidable, the vessels having come together during a heavy rainstorm. No blame was placed on either the American or

"Carry Your Bundles" ---For 5 Per Cent Off

Wife of the Secretary of War Suggests Merchants Give Discounts to Those Who Release Livestock.

By WINONA WILCOX.
A familiar sign in the shops makes many a woman meditate. It reads, "Carry home your bundles and release a man for Uncle Sam." But not a word is there about releasing the man's wages for Mrs. Consumer's benefit.

Perhaps the shopper had bought a blouse at an advance of 35 per cent, or paid $4.50 a dozen for small linen napkins which formerly cost $2.25, or noted that all cotton had climbed into the luxury class. Still she met "carry home your bundles" at every turn.

Then there is the "carry home your bundles movement" backed by an organization of representative women. No wonder she is confused.

Mrs. Newton D. Baker, wife of the secretary of war, has been a student of economic conditions for many years. Mrs. Baker has just been appointed national chairman of the joint consumers' committee. In interviews, Mrs. Baker says:

"Carry your bundles? Yes, but not unless we share in what the merchants save in delivery costs. I will not work a bit for the undertaking unless I can be assured the merchants are going to reduce the price of every piece of goods that is not delivered."

"My own suggestion is that a cash discount on the purchase price be granted those who carry bundles instead of ordering them delivered. If anyone can think of a better way, it should be suggested at once."

"Unless women are given a discount on the price of goods they carry home, the merchants are simply going to add to their profits by the women's sacrifices."

"Many stores have worked up an elaborate system of deliveries as part of the style of the shop. One merchant in Washington told me that his delivery system cost him $100,000 last year, and he said he didn't care if it cost twice that, for he didn't pay for it. This is the sort of store which encourages women to ask for silk to eight deliveries a day. The time has come when foolishness must stop."

"We have drifted into wildly extravagant habits, both merchants and customers. A Boston merchant says it costs him 11 cents a parcel to make deliveries. In New York, where distances are greater, the average cost runs as high as 15 cents."

By Mrs. Baker's plan of cash discounts, a woman purchasing $1 worth of goods at a store where a five per cent cash discount had been agreed upon, would be charged only 95 cents for the goods if she took the bundle home with her. But if she phoned for them or asked at the store that they be delivered, she would be charged the full $1. This would be to cover cost of delivery.

"I am willing to take part in the campaign when I can be assured that the customers are going to obtain some of the benefit," said Mrs. Baker.

"I know many women who take this same attitude. 'Representative women, working through the organizations already established, will try to arrange for this discount plan. If assurance is given them that this will be granted, a bundle carrying campaign will be established on a national scale.'"

"What Mrs. Baker says will be appreciated by thousands of women. It is always such a joy to say, after reading something in print, 'Why, that's just what I've been thinking myself!'"

DENIES RUMOR OF SEPARATE PEACE PACT

German Foreign Secretary Says
No Overtures Have Been Made to Entente

Amsterdam, Oct. 3.—Germany has made no proposals whatever for a separate peace to France or Great Britain. Dr. von Kuehlmann, the German foreign secretary, made this announcement, according to an official statement received from Berlin, in answering the speech made by the Russian minister of war before the democratic congress in Petrograd. The statement says:

"The Russian war minister asserted at the Petrograd democratic congress that the imperial chancellor, Dr. Michaelis, had stated, among other things, that Germany was ready to return Alsace-Lorraine to France. The imperial chancellor's utterances are generally known, and the assertion of the Russian war minister is an invention."

The war minister further stated that it was Germany's intention to make a separate peace with Great Britain and France at the cost of Russia, and that Great Britain and France had informed the Russian government that they would not be parties to any such proposal.

"I hear with state that Germany has made no proposals whatever for a separate peace, either with France or Great Britain," he said.

Last month reports were circulated in Russia that France and Great Britain had received offers to make a separate peace at the expense of Russia. Russia obtained formal denials from France and Great Britain that they would not make peace with Germany to the detriment of Russia. The announcement was made in Petrograd on Sept. 28.

The reported statement of the Russian war minister as regards Alsace-Lorraine has not been received previously in this country.

EMBARGO ON SHIPMENTS TIGHTENING

Germany Feeling the Ban Against Sending Commodities to Her Neighbors

Washington, D. C., Oct. 3.—Great Britain's embargo on shipments of practically everything to Sweden, Norway, Denmark and the Netherlands is regarded here as a most important move in tightening the cordon which slowly but surely is killing the military power of Germany.

Coming close on the heels of the export embargo of the United States, which is being administered to keep things that might supply the central powers, Great Britain's action is regarded as one of the most important of the war.

As the British embargo excludes everything except printed matter, about the only thing that will be permitted to go to the German people by way of the neutrals will be expressions of world opinion that they should reorganize their system of government to do away with the military autocracy.

In a figurative sense, Great Britain holds one end of the rope and the United States the other. Gradually, but surely, as it is being drawn taut, the military power of Germany is being strangled because the embargo cuts off the supplies she has been receiving through the adjacent neutrals.

THIRTY DAY CLAUSE WAIVED ON SEED GRAIN

Washington, Oct. 3.—To insure the retention of sufficient seed of wheat and rye for next year's crop, the department of agriculture announced today that the thirty day grain storage limitation will not apply to seed grain. Lots may be kept for seed purposes until the end of the next seeding season, but cannot be sold at a price exceeding by 15 per cent the selling price of No. 1 wheat at the elevator where stored.

THIRD QUOTA STARTS TOWARD CANTONMENTS

About 200,000 More Men on Way to Join National Army of 687,000

RAILROADS HANDLE TRAFFIC WITH DISPATCH

All Except First Draft of 32,549
Called for Special Equip-

Washington, Oct. 3.—About 200,000 men, representing the third increment to the national army, were on their way today to sixteen cantonments where already half of the 687,000 called to the colors by the president are mobilized. Although today's quota should be 10 percent under regulations promulgated by Provost Marshal General Crowder, local conditions in various states have reduced the general average of the increment to 20 percent or 25 percent.

Coinciding with the start of the third division to the training camp today, the railroads' war board issued a statement in connection with the part which the railroads have taken in handling the biggest troop movement ever attempted in this country. "Including the national guard, the regular army, and the new national army, the railroads to date have moved approximately 720,000 soldiers, from their homes to training camps or embarkation points," says the statement. "All this army, except the 32,549 men included in the first 5 percent that moved by regular train on September 5, required special train service, involving the use of 13,500 passenger cars, including 1,500 Pullmans and tourist sleepers, 2,000 baggage cars, and 4,500 freight cars. In addition the special train movements have had to be so directed as to prevent interruption to the regular passenger service."

THIRD OFFICERS' SCHOOLS OPENS JANUARY FIFTH

Washington, Oct. 3.—A third series of officers' training camps to be opened Jan. 5 will run until April 5, the war department announced today, primarily for the education of enlisted men of the regular army, national guard and national army for commissions.

In addition, however, 2,490 graduates or undergraduates from 93 specified schools and colleges will be admitted.

MOORHEAD POLICE HAVE SUSPECT

Fargo, Oct. 3.—Fred Anderson, 21, who is being held in custody by the Moorhead, Minn., police, is the man who shot and killed George Cheffield at the Great Northern railroad station in Moorhead, September 19, according to an announcement made here today by Chief of Police Dahlgren, of Fargo, who took the man in custody a few hours after the murder was committed. This is the man who the police announced previously they had in custody but refused to divulge his name to the police. Anderson has confessed to the murder, and according to the police, he is being held in custody after the finding of a large number of articles of jewelry in his room, which the police declare were stolen from the Reynolds store, and given to the girl by Anderson.

The girl, according to the police, has made startling disclosures and will be the state's chief witness, against Anderson. Four other girls who it is alleged, also received gifts of jewelry from Anderson, will testify.

Anderson was taken into custody about 5 o'clock on the morning of the murder and when taken in his room several changes of clothing were found. Witnesses to the murder were called, and according to the police identified him as one of the men who took part in the Moorhead station holdup.

ENGLAND TO RETALIATE FOR RAIDS

"We Shall Bomb Germany With
Compound Interest Says
George

FRENCH REPRISALS HAVE ALREADY BEEN STARTED

Activity North of Verdun Is Reported as Especially Prominent

(By Associated Press.)
"We shall bomb Germany with compound interest," Premier Lloyd George is quoted in the London press as declaring to a London crowd in promising it that Great Britain would soon launch reprisals for the many German air raids on England.

The French reprisals are already under way and were continued last night. French airmen dropped bombs on Baden. More than seven tons of bombs also were dropped on various military objectives in German held territory.

Along the French front, the artillery duels were vigorous at many points. Activity was especially marked north of Verdun, where the French are apparently preparing an attack to recover a few trench elements which the crown prince's troops retined when their main attack was thrown back north of Hill No. 344 yesterday. A German attempt to attack east of Rheims was broken up by the French artillery.

CAPTURE TRENCHES.
Lerlin, Oct. 3.—German troops yesterday captured a section of French trenches, 1,200 yards wide on the northern slope of Hill No. 244, to the east of the River Meuse, in the Verdun region, it was officially reported by the German general staff today.

Petrograd, Oct. 3.—The democratic congress by a vote of 765 to 688 today declared in favor of a coalition government.

SWEDEN HAS CABINET CRISIS

Stockholm, Oct. 3.—After the resignation of the cabinet yesterday King Gustav summoned the leaders of the chief parties in the riksdag to urge them to use their best efforts to form a coalition cabinet.

The king told the leaders it would be most expedient to form a cabinet which would maintain Sweden's neutral policy and exercise a calming influence on the people during the present crisis. Sweden's difficulties were increasing daily, the king asserted.

ATTORNEY OF I. W. W.'S SCOFFS AT CHARGES

Chicago, Oct. 3.—Whether an organization can strike during war time and whether members of an organization can stay on strike when that strike was initiated before the war started, are the two paramount issues indicated I. W. W., according to Otto Christensen, attorney for the organization. He is in the city today preparing for the legal battle, which will open soon.

Sweeping denial of the charges named in the indictment was made by Christensen, who asserted the chief point at issue is whether the I. W. W. are within the law in promulgating strikes during war times.

"The government's charges cannot possibly stand up," he declared. "The I. W. W. has at no time taken a positive position in regard to the war. Some of the strikes we are charged with starting to embarrass the government" were started before the war began.

"The charge that German money has been backing the organization is

Want Title Of General For Pershing

Secretary Baker Asks Senate to Use Title Held Only by Four

SAYS RANK COMMENSURATE WITH IMPORTANCE OF POST

Washington, Oct. 3.—The elevation of Major General John J. Pershing to the rank of general, a title held only by Washington, Grant, Sherman, and Sheridan, was sought by Secretary Baker today in a recommendation before the senate military committee.

The secretary urges revival of the rank of general for Pershing and the army chief of staff, and lieutenant general for the corps commanders with the expeditionary forces. He declared that the head of the overseas troops should be given grade commensurate with the importance of his position.

LEAGUE MAKES EFFORT TO SAVE FRAZIER'S FACE

Sends Out Incorrect Reports of Townley's Appropriation of Band Concert

SIGNED STATEMENT OF DIRECTOR BACHMAN

The league's capital city press bureau in an effort to protect Governor Frazier from the criticism which is being heaped upon him for his participation in Townley's deliberate appropriation of the farewell concert arranged for Bismarck friends by Director Harold Bachman of the Second regiment band is deliberately misrepresenting the facts, and some league papers are carrying stories embodying these misrepresentations, which might be called by a much shorter and uglier name.

The facts, as stated by Mr. Bachman, in a signed statement which he furnished The Tribune are as follows:

"My original plans were to give a farewell concert to the people of Bismarck in the auditorium on Wednesday night, the 26th of September. This was announced in The Bismarck Tribune, but on the day following I found that the Auditorium was engaged for that evening, and changed the date to Friday night. After the change was made, Attorney General Langer called me by telephone and asked if the Second infantry band would play for a farewell address the governor wished to give the boys of the two North Dakota regiments Friday night. I told him that we already had a concert scheduled for that night."

"I heard no more regarding any speeches going to be made until late Friday afternoon, when I was asked to go into the Public Opinion office (local Townley headquarters) and arrange the program so as to place the talks Mr. Langer had provided."

"I wish to state that I did not arrange any part of the speaking program, nor ask anyone to speak excepting Chaplain Markley, who took up the collection for the band. Naturally, I cooperated when Mr. Langer made the request."

In the face of these facts, Townley's hired hands deliberately stepped in at the eleventh hour and used the concert which had been arranged by Director Bachman and advertised by him solely as a band concert, and to which loyal Americans were permitted to come anticipating a patriotic musical organization, and made of it a league demonstration upon which Townley and Frazier might hang some doubtful shreds of patriotism.

The public never was taken into the confidence of Townley's hired hands except an eleventh hour league newspaper announcement, and Bachman was consulted only at the last moment, after he had published his program in the afternoon daily papers and had advised The Tribune that he knew nothing of any contemplated speeches; but the meeting was carefully press agitated to outside publicity by a league patriotic demonstration, and the band concert was mentioned merely as an incident.

The Tribune repeats that it was a deliberate, contemptible piece of trickery upon the part of hired hands of President Townley, frightened by the rising tide of indignation against Townleyism. Orders went out from headquarters to "pull something patriotic." The response of the local agitators and subsidized press was deliberately to deceive the public by purloining a meeting which had been arranged and advertised by Director Bachman as a concert, and to which the public had been invited with no intimation that they would be required to listen to Townley's henchman, fresh from LaFollette's feast of sedition and pro-Germanism.

The Townley attorney general was not asked to preside; it was never at any time his meeting. Governor

FLOATILLA IS READY TO COPE WITH SUBMARINE

Remarkable Progress Made in Building of Government's Destroyers

ALL CRAFT CONTRACTED FOR COMPLETED SOON

Great Majority of Them 35 Knot
Vessels of Very Latest
Model

Washington, D. C., Oct. 3.—Such remarkable progress has been made in the quick building of the immense floatilla of American destroyers to cope with the submarine campaign that the navy department now is assured of much quicker delivery of the ships than was contemplated in the last estimate, which, in itself, was far ahead of the original time. Progress on the ships now building and arrangements for others to follow, it was said today at the navy department, are such that the American navy will lead the world with its destroyers within 18 months.

Ready Next Year.
It is now certain that all destroyers building will be delivered ready for duty in European waters early in next year. Many of them had not been expected until the winter of 1918. Approximately 10 months have been saved.

The full success of the project, however, depends on the extraordinary power granted to the president in the bill now pending. The administration measure was altered in the house. The senate committee restored the provisions naval officers consider vital to success, and the navy hopes the bill will become law in substantially its original form. It is now in conference, and its progress is being watched constantly as tentative contracts are subject to change if the bill is altered.

Of New Design.
All new destroyers are of a new design, worked out by the navy department, and showing radical changes from any of these craft now afloat. The great majority of them will be 35 knot vessels of improved sea-keeping qualities, adding to their effectiveness as submarine hunters. The first of the new type have been tried out with results that amazed the officers who made trial trips.

The rate of warship production in the United States has been increased to such an extent that a greater amount of fighting tonnage is being produced in a given time than has ever been achieved before by any power.

ABANDONED PIGS HUSTLE OWN GRUB AND GROW HEARTY

Animals Deserted by Owner Five Years Ago Found to Have Thrived in Wilds

Shields, N. D., Oct. 3.—Five years ago William Gayton abandoned his farm at Shields to accept the post of Indian farmer at the Porcupine agency. He left on the place two year-old porkers intending to return for the animals later. One thing and another prevented his return for some months, and when he did go back, the hogs were not to be found. He gave them no further thought until some time ago when Mike Brown, while haying on the place, ran onto the animals, who were as coy and savage as wild boars. Although the hogs had looked after themselves for five years, living in the open winter and summer, they had thrived, one of the animals weighing 300 pounds and the other 200 pounds. They had lived solely on wild grass, nuts and roots. It was necessary to resort to the use of traps to capture them.

ATTACKS PROMINENT CITIZEN; WOMAN IS LODGED IN PRISON

Mrs. Minnie Garvey Tooley, a well known Bismarck woman who has recently been engaged as collector, was lodged in the county jail last evening on a charge of disorderly conduct after she had, it is alleged, "punched" a prominent Bismarck man against whom she had, it is claimed, some fancied grievance.

Chief Martineau, Deputy Sheriff Louth and one or two aides made the arrest and with some difficulty persuaded the somewhat excited woman to accompany them to the county

PHYSICALLY FIT WILL DESCRIBE NATIONAL ARMY

Boys When They Land in France
Will Be in Best Shape of
All Allies

PLENTY OF AMUSEMENT IS PROVIDED IN CAMP

Headquarters, Eighty-Eighth Division, National Army, Camp Dodge, Ia., Oct. 3.—When America's National army lands on French soil to begin the march to Berlin the world will see the physically fittest collection of individuals ever gathered under the banners of war.

No nation, in modern history at least, has ever taken the precautions against physical defects or submitted its men to a more rigid examination than the United States is now doing.

Today at Camp Dodge, the cream of the medical profession is gathered to pass upon the manhood of Iowa, Minnesota, North Dakota and Illinois. These men are passing upon the selective soldier, not in lots as cavalry horses are picked, but as individuals. Each recruit is gone over as carefully as if he were being chosen to enter the arena like the gladiator of old to uphold the honor of his country in single combat against an adversary.

For instance, among the physicians at Camp Dodge is Dr. Charles Lyman

Green, one of the leading men of his profession in Minneapolis. Dr. Green's professional income in Minneapolis amounts up into several thousands of dollars each year. He is a wealthy man. Yet Dr. Green is giving the benefit of his expert knowledge to Uncle Sam at Camp Dodge under a contract wage of $150 a month.

These are but samples. There is a host of others of equal caliber. They are specialists in nerve diseases, in eye, ear and nose ailments, and in every other branch of anatomy study.

The selective who thought when he had got by the local examining board that he was physically fit for the army had a surprise in store for him at Camp Dodge. He goes through an examination here that makes his home test look like a pastime. And the surprising part of it all is that so few, about 2 to 3 per cent in fact fail to get by the line of doctors and specialists sitting in judgment upon them. Which proves that the manhood of the west ranks high with that of any place on the globe.

Real drill and hard work are now the regular order of things among the 20,000 or more recruits in camp here. The saluting, the marching in squads, and the other little necessities of a military education are still being given. But the advance work which is more like real soldiering is also on. In the first place, 6,000 rifles have been received and apportioned to the men, so many to a company. Most of these are the old-type Kraags but there are a few enfield, the kind now in use in Europe. The fundamental knowledge of how to handle the rifle can be imparted with the Kraags. The rifle ranges are being put in shape and soon the pop-pop of target practice will give Camp Dodge an appearance of "somewhere near the front."

Cross-country hikes are also in order. It is a wonderful sight to see these thousands of men, in company formation, strike out across country for a walk of five miles. They go in all directions, up hill and down hill, in step, with head erect and shoulders back breathing the pure, fresh air of the Des Moines river valley.

The schedule now is 48 hours work a week. That means eight hours a day counting the afternoons and Sunday out that form the men's vacations. In addition to this drill there is studying at night, especially for the young men who aspire to become officers. And the word from Washington that the third and fourth training camp for officers would be filled with the non-commissioned officers from the training camps makes it certain that these boys selected from the farms and the towns will be the lieutenants and the captains of the next National army when it is called out.

"Keep the boys in camp," is the slogan of Major General Plummer, commandant. The general has requested of Holmes Cowper, appointed by the government as singmaster for the camp, that he have plenty of attractions in camp on Sunday in the way of music. Mr. Cowper, be it known, is a musician of note himself. At the time he became dean of the Drake university conservatory of music he was rated as one of the four best American tenors. And as a teacher he has not declined in ability.

Dean Cowper will have concerts, singests, and music of all sorts every Sunday once things get started. Every Sunday so far has had its music.

In two or three weeks the camp will have its own theatre, with a capacity of about 4,000 seats. It is being erected by the National Playgrounds association. In this theatre there will be first class plays furnished by a well known national theatrical agency. The best talent in the country will be brought to amuse and entertain the men.

Plans are now under way to have a well known chautauqua circuit show in camp for a week. A huge tent will be erected for the purpose. The leading attractions of this circuit will come here and give two shows a week in this tent. The men will attend by regiments so that during the time the chautauqua is in progress every man in camp will have an opportunity to see it.

General Plummer wants to make it possible for the boys to remain in camp when off duty. At present, "town leave" is granted Wednesday afternoon and evening, Saturday afternoon and evening and Sunday. By this means that a certain number of men can get permission to go to Des Moines or to go to any other surrounding town on those days.

A working man is a hungry man, especially if he exercises in the open. It is interesting to note the huge quantities of food stuff required for the 20,000 or more men now in camp. The estimate is 500,000 pounds of fresh beef, 10,000 pounds of bacon, 50,000 pounds of onions, 500,000 pounds of flour and potatoes, butter, syrup, coffee, rice, sugar, etc., in like quantity.

The aim of the quartermasters department is to have a month's supply always in the warehouse, another month's supply on the way and the third month's needs ordered.

The vastness of Camp Dodge cannot be appreciated until it is seen. That is the testimony of a well known newspaper man who visited the camp this week. He had followed the accounts of the cantonment closely from the beginning. But when he stepped out of the automobile at headquarters, he simply stood in amazement at the great row of buildings that stretches up the Des Moines river valley as far as the eye can see.

A recent estimate on the amount of lumber used in the construction work on the camp is placed at 25,000,000 feet. A carload of lumber is about 20,000 feet. The lumber, therefore, if placed on cars all at one time would make 35 trains of 10 cars each.

The average home has about 10,000 feet of lumber in its construction. It would be possible therefore to take the lumber used at Camp Dodge and build a city of 2,500 houses. If each house was built on a fifty foot lot and on both sides of the street, the street would stretch for a distance of seventeen miles.

Every opportunity is going to be placed before the men at Camp Dodge to advance in their new profession, that of soldiering. As mentioned above, the officers of the next National army will be taken from the ranks of the first overseas contingent.

A training school will be maintained at Camp Dodge where ambitious corporals and sergeants may study to become second lieutenants and better. At this school courses will be offered similar to those at Fort Snelling and other officers' training camps. It will mean study at night in text books that teach tactics, school of arms, the line points of squad drill, etc. But the ambitious young man, who doesn't want to be a private all his life, is going to take this course of study.

BISMARCK HORSES WIN 30 FIRSTS IN THIRTY ENTRIES

Jeff May Home With String of Thoroughbreds That Copped
Money This Summer

With a record of having won thirty firsts out of thirty starts, Jeff May, Bismarck's leading breeder of thoroughbreds, has returned from a tour of three states with his running horse, First Fashion, Perth Rock and Primary. He finished the season at Glendive, Mont., after starting his horses in leading events in North and South Dakota and Montana. In every race in which he had two horses entered, thirteen in all, he won first and second. First Fashion took fifteen races, Perth Rock thirteen and Primary two. Including four mile-derbies, of which First Fashion took one and Perth three firsts, and Primary a second. Primary was laid up for most of the season with a cut in the leg.

At Miles City in a three-fourth mile run for $250 between First Fashion and a Miles City horse, the Bismarck entry won handily, transferring $1,200 worth of Miles City money into Bismarck pockets.

First Fashion is California bred, a beautiful sorrel gelding with white markings. Perth Rock is a jet black, and Primary a bay, both being Kentucky horses.

Jeff May will winter his string here, where he hopes to enter them in some matinees next spring before he goes onto the big track circuits.

BIGGEST NEW ROCKFORD CITIZEN CAN'T GET PAST

Circus Giant, Standing Eight Feet, Fails to Meet Physical Requirements

New Rockford, N. D., Oct. 3.—In spite of his plea that he could just naturally walk over the "Bosche's trenches," like a bare tank," John A. Aason, New Rockford's famed circus giant, failed to pass the physical tests and was rejected when examined for select service by the Charleston, West Va., exemption board. Aason is eight feet tall and weighs something over 300. He is well known in Eddy county, where his boyhood was spent, and he had generally been regarded as a giant in strength as well as stature.

HOMER THRILLS WITH RENDITION OF "STAR
SPANGLED BANNER"

Famous Contralto Repeats America's National Anthem Just As She Sang it to Marshal Joffre

HOMER FARRAR

When Marshal Joffre was visiting America, he heard "The Star Spangled Banner" sung by Homer Farrar. It is possible for every one to do so. Mrs. Farrar has made a record of "The Star Spangled Banner," and it has just been issued with the new list of Victor Records for October. Homer is especially suited to sing our favorite national air, and her splendid contralto voice rings out full and strong and with her patriotic new record.

Frances Alda sings with a depth of sincerity an extremely beautiful version of an old Negro spiritual, "Deep River," which strongly brings out the religious fervor of the Negro race. The "Traveller's Tale," "The Home in Fair Provence," is a true Verdi melody, simple and flowing, and it is sung by Giuseppe Le Jan with flawless technique and complete understanding of its emotional values.

Those who ask that a love song shall be bright and cheerful as well as sincere, will be delighted with "That's Why My Heart Is Calling You," sung by Enrico Caruso. This favorite baritone gives it just the right interpretation, and his easy, natural method of singing is particularly well adapted to a song of this kind.

The Victor Orchestra is very much in evidence this month, contributing with splendid selections, "Whispering Flowers," is a charming waltz number with delicate coloring and is splendidly played. The other selections are two numbers from Lullaby, well known Ballet Egyptian, and the "Honey" and "Gull" songs of Enrico Caruso, which is popular with people in all the various stages of musical development.

A New "Last Rose of Summer"

It was inevitable that the Victor-Columbia record of "The Last Rose of Summer," which has been the previous season's "warrior of melody," should be followed by a new version of this beautiful song to its fullest expression. This new Victor record is among the October offerings, and in Gull-Cure's rendition there is just the little touch of his native Italian which adds so much to the grace and charm of his speech.

The Paderewski record of Chopin's "Minute in G Flat Minor" is another instance of the improved method of recording piano music recently evolved by the Victor. The number is familiarly and aptly known as the "Bartolotti," and the record reveals the great Paderewski in his most poetic mood. In "Little Firefly," Charles Watford Colman has given us another of those delightful little sketches based on Indian themes, and Maud Powell gives a beautiful violin rendition of this captivating number.

The popularity of "The Red Little Flower" is partly due to the pretty sentiment of the poem and partly to the appropriate melody, and Clarence Whitehill sings it with a sympathetic understanding which seems "just right." Lambert Murphy sings beautifully two charming songs of sentiment, "Good Night, Little Girl," and "The Blush of the West Wind."

Rose, the latter number telling a pretty flower legend of a white rose that was changed to a blush rose by the kiss of the West wind. Geraldine Farrar has selected as her offering a fresh and ardent love song by Caminade. "If Thou Dost Say" is a tumultuous pouring song with eagerness, full, free acceptance that life and love are worth while—and the versatile Farrar, who turns from dramatic opera roles to concert songs with astonishing facility, brings out all its beauties when Borodina's Russian opera, Prince Igor, was given at the Metropolitan. Critics were unanimous in saying that the chief attraction centered in the choruses. The two records presented by the Metropolitan Opera Chorus will no doubt be welcomed by music-lovers. The first number is a solo, rather dramatic, chorus of boys, in vivid contrast; and both have the true Russian flavor.

An Ardent Love Song by McCormack

A new song by the composer of the "Little Grey Home in the West" is bound to create interest, and especially so when sung by John McCormack. "Any Place is Heaven if You are Near Me," Hermann Loeb has written an ardent love song, and the new Victor record of it by McCormack is sung with that abandon of enthusiasm and beauty that interpreters seem to feel. It is this faculty which has given the great Irish tenor his place in the hearts of his hearers.

To the other, after the unique in music, to those who respond to something new in "color," the record of the "Little Grey Home in the West" by McCormack is of special interest. It is an evocation of the spirit, thoroughly artistic, and magnificent, and it calls for the beautiful lower tones of her voice which she commands over very subtle and delicate vocal shadings. McCormack's violin part is beautifully played and adds greatly to the atmosphere of the composition.

Mabel Garrison's rendition of "Little Alabama Coon" revives a song that has been neglected for more than a score of years, yet comes up smiling to greet new generations. The list of a type of plantation song that had a vogue years ago, and as sung by Garrison and made quartet, it sounds as refreshing as ever.

The Venetian Trio is heard in "To a Wild Rose," a true musical poem as exquisite as the flower which inspired it. The singing is so charming that it gains the lovely melody while the harp plays a delicate accompaniment. These instrumentalists also play the familiar "Rosary," and it loses none of its charm in this new recording.

song form to this delicate trio arrangement. Arthur Brooke, one of the flute players in the Boston Symphony Orchestra, sings a consummate masterpiece of his instrument by his rendition of "The Whirlwind," and Arthur Foreman delights with an alone solo of one of Schumann's three "Romances" for that instrument.

Nora Bayes Sings Patriotic Songs

Nora Bayes is hardly anybody when it comes to singing the patriotic note. She is a well known contralto, and in her two newest contributions on Victor Records, "Lullaby Boy" is a goodie song in a patriotic vein, and in "The Star Spangled Banner" she sings it with a feeling and a sense of the grandeur of the song that is rare. In "The Star Spangled Banner," she sings it with a feeling and a sense of the grandeur of the song that is rare. In "The Star Spangled Banner," she sings it with a feeling and a sense of the grandeur of the song that is rare.

NORA BAYES

Two saxophone solos given by H. H. Henton, with accompaniments by Conway's Band, make a record of unusual interest—the popular Hawaiian melody, "Aloha Oe," and the old favorite, "When You and I Were Young, Magic." Conway's Band also contributes six rollicking dance numbers—four one steps and two for two—and Joseph C. Smith's Orchestra presents an attractive medley fox trot and the "Mondaine Waltz," one of those seductive waltzes in minor key that make a dance memorable.

The street piano is a musical instrument that brings light and laughter every day to millions of people, and the melody of Italian airs and operatic airs played on this instrument will doubtless be well received. Two delightful Hawaiian numbers are given by Wright and Dietrich, sung to the accompaniment of the Hawaiian guitar and ukulele played by Loma and Ferrara. Van and Schenck have two lively numbers in "The Ragtime Vagabonds Are Off to War" and "Southern Gals," Golden and Henton have won a unique place for themselves as first-class comedians, and the two duologues which they present will give much laughter.

The favorite old plantation lullaby "Doan Ye Cry, Ma Honey," sounds very effective sung by Olive Kline with male quartet for the refrain, and Miss Kline also sings "Flow Gently Sweet Afton." Homer Rodheaver and George Brewster sing a simple gospel hymn, "Closer to Jesus," and "Drifted" also makes an excellent duet for this baritone and tenor. The Victor Light Opera Company introduces in their medley of "Gems" the most popular numbers from the "Ziegfeld Follies," "Oh, Boy," and Sally Hamerton gives two excellent "Follies" interpretations, reading the lines, so full of alternating humor and pathos, with keen appreciation and sympathy.

Victor audiences to entertain them right in their own homes, and even those who haven't a Victrola can share in this great pleasure, for any Victor dealer will gladly play any of these selections for any one.

PAVING GOING UP; EXTENSION GIVEN FORD CO.

Asphalt Costs 28 Cents More Per Yard Than When Original Contract Was Let WILL NOT BE POSSIBLE TO FINISH THIS FALL

Paving, like other luxuries and necessities, is going up. The Ford Paving Co., whose bids on paving four blocks surrounding the county building were opened by the city commission last evening, wants $218 per square yard for asphalt paving, which it contracted to put in last fall for $190, the price at which the work in the second district was awarded. This difference of 28 cents per square yard will mean an added cost of about 11 per cent foot to property holders on the four streets affected. The Ford company last evening also submitted bids of $390 and $410 per square yard on two different qualities of creosote bitumens. No bids were submitted on bitulithic.

No action was taken by the city commission last evening, inasmuch as time must be allowed for the property holders to make a selection of materials. The matter will be brought to the attention of the Burleigh county commission at its meeting tomorrow. The county owns 50 per cent of the frontage affected. There is a question whether the work, if the contract is let within the next two weeks, can be done this fall. Secretary McGuire of the paving company appeared before the commission last evening and called attention to the fact that the original contract, called for the completion of work in district No. 2 on Oct. 1. Litigation which prevented the beginning of work early in the spring, difficulty in obtaining materials and a scarcity of labor all held up the work until there is now a question as to whether it can be completed before cold weather sets in. He therefore asked and obtained an extension of the time limit until July 1, 1918. If the contract for the paving around the court house is let an effort may be made to finish the work this fall, or it may be left until next spring, and all energies be concentrated on the district as originally constituted.

Salaries Fixed.
By resolution salaries for the ensuing year were fixed as follows: City commissioners, $40 per month; city auditor $125; treasurer, $25; atorney, $80; assessor, $125; engineer, $60; overseer of poor, $50; health officer, $50; milk inspector, $17.50; chief of fire department, $75; custodian fire hall, $100; chief of police, $115; police captain, $100; patrolman, $83.33; street overseer, $125; weighmaster, $190; firemen, $2 for first hour and $1 for each succeeding hour spent in attending fires.

Alley Wanted.
A petition from George F. Will, W. E. Laehr and other property-owners in the block bounded by Thayer, Rosser, Fourth and Third asking for the opening of an alley for which they deeded the necessary footage, and the paving of this alley was referred to the city attorney and city engineer. City Attorney O'Hare reported further progress on the river road difficulties and the Northern Pacific through Supt. W. E. Berner advised that gates would be installed at the Third street crossing as soon as possible in compliance with the commission's recent resolution. Commissioner Best brought up the advisability of spreading on the special assessment rolls the cost of freeing sidewalks from snow last winter. Inasmuch as the street commissioner had failed to keep an account of the cost of performing this duty for delinquent householders the commission deferred action on the matter.

The police master reported the collection of $145 in fines during the month of September, his office once more proving more than self supporting.

LAST RITES FOR WELL KNOWN STUTSMAN BANK EXECUTIVE HELD TODAY

Jamestown, N. D., Oct. 3.—Funeral services for the late William P. Hayes, 37, cashier of the Spiritwood bank and prominent business man of this community, who passed away at his home here after a lengthy siege of diabetes, were conducted from St. James Catholic church this day. He is survived by his mother Mrs. Nora Hayes, his widow, and one brother, Stephen, of Duluth. The remains will be shipped to Milwaukee, Wis., tonight for interment.

Frazier was not asked to speak. He was expected to speak by the words of real Americans who were to the Auditorium; nor did Director Bachman have any definite knowledge that he would speak until the last moment, when it was too late to announce that fact, except through league newspapers. The Townley committee which appropriated the honor for Director Bachman's meeting was made up of men on Townley's payroll who do Townley's bidding. The subterfuge was so cheap and so petty that it has served only to stimulate the disgust and contempt which honorable, loyal, independent Americans have come to feel for the yellow, Townley brand.

Bachman Was Helpless.
Naturally when the Townley attorney general as a representative of the governor of North Dakota called upon Director Bachman to turn over his meeting to the governor, Bachman could not do otherwise than he did and cooperate. He is in a position where no matter who may occupy the gubernatorial seat, he must respect the office. The Tribune's course in exposing this supreme bit of league trickery has met with general commendation among Bismarck clubmen to whom Governor Frazier's intrusion was as unwelcome as it was unexpected.

Two Teams Analyzed

New York, Oct. 2.—While the winning of a pennant and the resultant participation in the World Series is based upon the number of games won during the entire season of league play it is as a rule the final weeks of the schedule in which the championships are clinched. At this period, of the play the leading teams of each league are putting forth their greatest efforts in an attempt to capture first place and each day's struggle is fought out to the finish. For this reason it has frequently been said that the true speed of a team in a World Series can be gauged from the power of its play near the point where the pennant was mathematically won.

Based upon this assumption an analysis of the work of the Chicago Americans and the New York Nationals in the closing weeks of the present season should afford a somewhat general outline of the form which may be expected of these two clubs when they meet in the World Series of 1917. On the first day of September the Chicago White Sox were leading in the American League by 4 1-2 games over the Boston Red Sox while the New York Nationals led the Phillies in the senior league by 9 games.

In neither case was the lead so great that the runner-up club did not have a chance to overtake and pass the pace setters. Under the circumstances the New York and Chicago teams were forced to play their best game and despite an occasional defeat the records show that they travelled at high speed up to the very moment that the flag was won beyond peradventure.

During the first twenty days of September the New York Nationals played twenty-three games of which they won sixteen and lost seven, showing a winning average of .696 for that period. In the same number of days the Chicago White Sox played fifteen games of which they won all but three for an average of .800. In these fifteen games the Chicago players accumulated a total of eighty-two runs to their opponents' fifty-four or an average of close to five and half runs per game. The Giants aggregated eighty runs in twenty-three games for an average of three and a half runs per game. If the opposing strength were equal in all games which was not the case however it might be assumed that the White Sox attack was stronger than that of the Giants while the latter's defense was harder to break through. The fact that these clubs did not, of course, face the same opponents must not be overlooked.

Much stress has been laid upon the respective ability of the pitchers of the clubs and the part that these twirlers will play in the winning of the World Series. For this reason a comparison of their box records during the period under consideration may be of interest to the followers of the game. The Giants have used Salter, Perritt, Schupp, Tesch and Benton for an average of 4 3-5 innings each in the twenty day period while Demaree and Anderson have worked an average of 17 1-2 each. For the White Sox Cicotte, Williams and Faber have borne the brunt of the pitching, having averaged forty innings. Dunforth and Russell between them pitched twenty innings an average of ten innings.

HENRY RICHHOLT WILL ERECT FINE BUSINESS STRUCTURE ON THAYER

Excavating has been completed for a fine new business structure to be erected by Henry W. Richholt on his property at the corner of Thayer and Seventh street. The building will be of freeproof construction with a hand-some stucco exterior and will cover a ground space of 60x15 feet. The first floor will be occupied by a store-room and the second will be made into a commodious family apartment. Theodore Nelson has the contract, and he hopes to complete the exterior work before cold weather sets in.

Endowment Fund Concert Big Event Of This Eve at Federation Conference

The endowment fund concert is the big event of the Wednesday session of the North Dakota Federation of Women's clubs in conference in Dickinson. The program is announced for this evening at 8 o'clock. Representative musicians from all parts of the state will have places on the program. Among them are the Misses Cecelia and Florence Connolly, Clara Thorberg of Mandan, Miss Kathryn Harris of Pembina, Miss Ruth Butler of Dickinson.

Mrs. Philip J. Meyer and Mrs. M. C. Budlong represented the Bismarck clubs on the program today. Mrs. Meyer represents the credential department and Mrs. Budlong the extension and historic departments. Mrs. W. H. Bodanstab of the legislative department will give a report Thursday and Mrs. Budlong will address the Thursday morning session. Miss Laura B. Sanderson, formerly of Bismarck, will also speak Thursday.

R. M. Black, president of the state normal and industrial school in Bismarck, addressed the convention this afternoon on "Education of Democracy." Miss Katherine Jensen on "Work Not Words," Miss Mae McDonald on "The Work of the Home Demonstration Agent," Dr. V. H. Stickney of the state council of defense, Mrs. Grace Glendenning of the woman's committee of the state council of defense and Mrs. N. C. Young of Fargo of the Red Cross gave interesting addresses.

Mrs. H. G. Vicks president's address rang with a patriotic note throughout and served to bring a great inspiration to all who heard her. The address follows in part.

"In a large measure the success of this great body depends on the ability of the department workers to study the plans of the general federation and to apply them to the needs of our state, that we may be a working unit in the larger body and also of benefit to our own North Dakota. We shall never be truly united until we have awakened every individual club woman to a sense of responsibility.

"All State Federations now face new responsibilities for which there is no precedent in club history. We will know, now, we are a new and sterner duty bravely and efficiently, courageously. Club work is service—service broadened by intelligence, religion, patriotism. Shall we not be glad to do our part in an organized effective way feeling that we are working for the ideal of universal democracy? Our club work has trained us to realize our individual responsibility to our homes, our state, our nation.

"President Wilson tells us 'the public is now as much a part of the government as the army and navy themselves, the whole people in all their activities are now mobilized for service for the accomplishment of the nation's task in this war'.

One call from the government is for food conservation, with Herbert C. Hoover in charge for the nation and President E. F. Ladd for North Dakota. Their work will be effective just so far as they secure the cooperation of the people. I urge you club women of North Dakota to assist President Ladd in his work in your locality.

Our government is calling every man, woman and child to support the American Red Cross. Owing to demands on shipping facilities it has been made the one medium for sending of comforts to our soldiers across the water. You must give of time and money to this cause.

"Another call from Washington is for liberty loans and officials there have named two people to take charge of this work in our state. Ex-Governor Naana and our own Minnie Jean Nielson. I beg of you, co-operate with them."

WRITES ABOUT HER FAVORITE HAT

By IRENE BORDONI.
("Best Dressed Woman on the Stage")
My favorite hat is a small close-fitting toque of white feathers made over a foundation of white tulle silk. The whole hat is made small. The individual feathers are laid on a foundation so that they point upward and toward the back.

I like it for the same reason that every woman likes a small hat of this type—because it is very light and has snugly fitting no nuptious and always looking well. I wear it low down, so the front droops over the eyebrows.

Because it is a small hat, it will go with almost a street costume, and it is quite a head covering all so while it is featured by a most instructive paper on "The Vital Pairing of the Proper Development of the Body." This was presented by Miss A. J. Hart. An interesting discussion followed this paper. The roll call was responded to by current events and the social hour was spent in sewing on Red Cross articles. The club will meet again in two weeks.

Visiting in Mankato.

Mrs. Fred D. Graham and sister, Miss Emma Laist of Fifth street, who left last week for Mankato, where the former went to visit her husband, who is in training at Fort Snelling, are now in Mankato visiting Miss Lucy Thomas, formerly of this city. Mrs. Graham and Miss Laist attended the song recital given Monday under the auspices of the Mankato Musical club. Miss Florence Laist and are enthusiastic in their praise of this young artist. Mrs. Graham will go to Minneapolis Saturday to spend some time with Mr. Graham before returning to the capital city.

North Dakota Lieutenant Weds.

Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Kindred and daughter, Miss Eleanor Kindred left Fargo last week for Kansas City, Mo., where Miss Eleanor was married the first of the week to First Lieutenant Melvin B. McGuigan, son of Mr. and Mrs. William McGuigan of Davenport, N. D. Lieutenant McGuigan, who formerly held a military commission at the agricultural college, Fargo, is now stationed at Camp Logan, Houston, Texas with Company H, First Illinois Infantry. The bride has enlisted in the national defense branch of the American Red Cross and will offer her services in France if Lieutenant McGuigan is ordered abroad.

Prominent N. D. Girl Weds.

Announcement has been made of an interesting marriage which occurred last Saturday in Minneapolis when Miss Jessie Jassick, daughter of Dr. J. Jassick of Grand Forks became the bride of Charles Swane Hixon of Minneapolis. The wedding took place in Gethsemane Episcopal church, the groom's father, Rev. C. E. Hixon, reading the service. The bride was attended by Miss Margaret Reid of Grand Forks. Mr. and Mrs. Hixon are now enjoying an eastern wedding trip. They will reside at 3131 Pleasant avenue, Minneapolis. The bride is the only daughter of Dr. Jassick, who is well known over the state as president of the State Anti-Tuberculosis association.

Miss Hoskins Feted.

Among the interesting affairs planned for Miss Helen Hoskins daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Hoskins of Fourth street, whose marriage to Glover Dollar will be an event of this fall, was the party given this afternoon by Mrs. Gardner Wallace of Avenue B, a schoolmate of the bride elect. Twenty of Miss Hoskins' friends were guests and the afternoon was spent in doing fancywork. She was so tendered a shower of canned fruits and pickles. This part of the diversions was unknown to the honor guest being planned as a surprise by the hostess. Mrs. Willard Leach will entertain Thursday afternoon for Miss Hoskins at the home of her parents, Capt. and Mrs. I. P. Baker of near the city.

Musical Club Recital.

Mrs. William Moore, organist at the Presbyterian church will give a descriptive organ recital Thursday afternoon under the auspices of the Thursday Musical club, in the church auditorium. Mrs. Moore will give a talk on "Organ Music" with organ illustrations. Mrs. Moore has held a prominent place in musical circles of the city for many years and is recognized as one of the most successful organists of this section. She will be assisted by Mrs. Ellis Putnam, Miss Steele soprano, Mrs. Putnam will sing Dudley Lusk's "Crossing the Bar," Miss Woodland Virginia Logan's "Lullaby," and Miss Steele with Verdure. The program will begin at 8 o'clock and will be open to club members only.

LINDE VERY ILL.

Former Attorney General Henry I. Linde of the firm of F. S. Murphree & Linde is in the Bismarck hospital in a very serious condition as a result of uraemic poisoning.

See the boy wonder Charles F. in "The Millionaire Vagrant" at the Orpheum tonight.

A Letter From Washington

The Food Administrator Writes Us:

"The use of baking powder breads made of corn and other coarse flours instead of patent wheat flour is recommended by the Conservation Division of the Food Administration. The wheat needed for export is thus conserved, and at the same time healthful food for our own people is provided. The circulation of recipes providing for these uses would be of assistance in carrying out our plans."

New York, Oct. 3.—Analysis of the work of the various players by positions in past World Series emphasizes the fact that with the possible exception of pitchers no member of the team is under greater physical or mental strain than the catcher during the battles for the championship of the major leagues. In the handling of delivery signals, close plays at the plate, throws to cut down base stealers and in backing up first and third in throws from the outfield the catcher is both busy and important factor in the contest.

A sharp eye, steady judgment, a powerful throwing arm and cool courage are necessary requisites for the player who dons the mask and wind pad in the most important of all baseball games. It is fortunate that both the Chicago Americans and the New York Nationals are equipped with catchers of this calibre for the series of 1917 which begins in Chicago next Saturday. While the Giants have a slight advantage in quantity, in this department of the game, the White Sox are generally conceded to have an edge in the quality of the receiving staff.

The Chicago catchers include Ray Schalk, Bird Lynn and Joseph Jenkins while the New York quartet consists of George McCarthy, William Rariden, George Ghylin and John Onslow. Both Jenkins and Onslow are comparative newcomers, they are not likely to figure in the series to any extent and their chance of seeing service is extremely remote. Schalk is expected to hear the catching burden of the White Sox in every game of the series unless he should be incapacitated by accident or illness. He has caught in more than seventy-five per cent of the season's games while Lynn has acted as receiver in the others.

Rariden has done a greater amount of the back stopping for the Giants this year due in part to the fact that McCarthy broke his leg early in the season and was out of the game for several months. Gibson, the former Pittsburgh receiver, is the third string catcher for New York.

If McCarthy can stand the strain of the game, and it is the impression among the New York players that he will be physically fit for the fray, he will undoubtedly have first call upon the position. This will bring him into action against Schalk. The latter is unquestionably one of the best catchers of the day. He knows the weaknesses of the various batters and, as he can handle the delivery of any ball of any and all the Chicago twirlers, he will be able to signal for any form of curve or break that he may think promising to the man at the plate. The outstanding feature of his play, however, is his fast and accurate throwing to the bases. He must be a speedy sprinter and perfect slider who would put his skill against Schalk with any degree of success. McCarthy is not so brilliant in this feature of the catcher's art but he is an excellent director of the work of the hurlers and is a far stronger batter than Schalk. According to the season averages there is little choice in the fielding work of the two catchers but the White Sox backstop is much faster on the base lines than McCarthy as the latter's accident is likely to prevent him from talking chances at base stealing except in an emergency.

An injury to Schalk during the early stages of the coming series would work havoc with the Chicago Club for while Lynn is an ambitious player, he lacks the experience and all-around ability of his principal. In this respect the New York team is in a better position to face such a disaster for either Rariden or Gibson, owing to their greater experience can step into McCarthy's place with less disconcerting effect upon the team play than would be the case were it necessary to substitute Lynn for Schalk. This can be seen from a comparison of the following records which include the batting and fielding averages, stolen bases and double plays of the five catchers who may participate in the series.

BOOST FOREIGN TRADE

Uncle Sam's Special Agents Have Made Success in Work.

Great Progress Made in Recent Years in Connection With Efforts of Bureau of Commerce.

Great progress has been made during the past two or three years in connection with the special investigations that are carried on by agents of the bureau of foreign and domestic commerce in foreign countries. A special investigation now involves a program of action of which the agent's report is merely the most important feature instead of being, as often heretofore, the sole object to be achieved. This program covers, first, the widest publicity possible for the proposed work among the interests for whose benefit it is being done.

Officials of the bureau have found it to be almost as important to prepare the ground for the reception of the information as it is to obtain the information itself, and to do this it is necessary to arouse the interest of the industry affected both in the subject of foreign trade and in the special work of the bureau. The second feature of the program, the careful selection of the man to undertake the work, is of manifest importance.

It is the opinion of the officials that the value of the whole undertaking rests in the confidence that the trade has in the judgment of the investigator, and it is essential to have a man of experience and reputation, whose recommendation will carry weight. In spite of a certain amount of cynicism among some business men as to the value of governmental work, it is nevertheless true that with a large part of the business public an official government representative is assumed to be a man who can speak with authority on the subject.

The fourth feature of the program is the dissemination of the information received to just as wide a public as can be reached, not only through the printed reports, but also through personal conferences of returned agents with manufacturers.

When an investigation is decided upon the trade associations, trade papers and important firms connected with the industry concerned are circled and their co-operation solicited either in finding the best man for the work or in offering suggestions as to making it of the most practical value, or both.

Both before and after the agent goes to the foreign country which he visits he makes a tour of the United States, touching those chief centers of manufacture of his line, and discusses, in personal conferences with prospective exporters, the markets that he will explore or has explored. In this way the knowledge of conditions that he has obtained abroad is utilized to the fullest extent.

ORGANIZATION OF ALEX PICKS GIANTS

Great Fitcher Believes New York's Great Attack Will Win Series

BY JAMES W. GANTZ. (Sporting Editor, the Philadelphia Press.)

Grover Cleveland Alexander, the king of the pitchers—who still retains his throne, peeping through the periscope into the future sees victory ahead for the New York Giants over the Chicago White Sox in baseball's classic.

Here's a pitcher, the modern king of 'em all, willing to admit that pitching alone will not win the series. Quite the contrary, Alex the Great deduces triumph ahead for New York because bats wielded by the Giants will be far more productive in the art of run-getting.

What! Eddie Cicotte, Reb Russell, Williams, Faber and Danforth will make the Giants think they are swinging toothpicks when they go up there to take a crack at the ball? Where do you get that stuff? Now, it may be so that the Chicago pitching will throw a monkeywrench into the the New York artillery, but I have reasons to think otherwise.

"Do I think the Giants are a great scoring machine? Look at my record against them! I won a game from them in our last series; that's all this year. It's beyond me to explain why they've bumped me so hard."

When McCarthy is catching and Sallee pitching, you have to face nine men, anyone of whom might break up the old ball game with a long drive.

"I've heard it said that the Giants throw away chances to score by playing the hit-and-run for a flock of runs. That's not so. The Giants can sacrifice as well as hit-and-run and I look for them to continually mix 'em up against the White Sox. NEW YORK IS THE GREATEST ONE-INNING SCORING TEAM I EVER FACED."

"So much for the offensive of the Giants. Now the pitching. There are two men in the Chicago line-up whose bats must be hushed up—Eddie Collins and Joe Jackson. I look for McGraw to pin his faith in left-handers, for once Collins and Jackson are silenced the biggest danger has been removed. Freddie Schupp, the brilliant left-hander, might shine against Chicago, but I favor Slim Sallee."

"It wouldn't surprise me to see McGraw shoot left-handers, Sallee and Schupp, at the White Sox in the first two games. Either could come back after a short rest, but it wouldn't be absolutely necessary for there is Peritt, a right-hander, who will give the Sox a lot of trouble."

"I have been hearing a lot about Cicotte's shine ball. He might not have such a thing; it might just be a fooler. Anyhow, if he has a shine ball working he certainly will have to be at his very best to pitch it past that hard-hitting club."

"The Giants are not a ball club that might be considered a mark for left-hand pitching. They have a batting order well balanced with both types of hitters, a strong infield with Flecher and Herzog, a great combination of arm and second, a pitching staff especially strong in left-handers, good catchers and a smart outfield. There had been some talk of Herzog being shifted. I look for him to play in his normal part."

"I do not expect the Giants to have a walkover, but they have all three things necessary to win, hitting, pitching and fielding, with cool heads under fire."

OFFICIAL PROCEEDINGS CITY COMMISSION, OCT. 1, 1917.

The Board of city commissioners met in regular session. There were present Commissioners Brunsch, Best, Kirk and President Lucas. The minutes of the meeting of September 24, 1917, were read and approved with the exception of that part of them which refers to raising sidewalk at the corner of Second street and Ross street. City Attorney H. F. O'Hare stated that his opinion concerning the Broadway sewer ejector was not changed by reading report of R. L. Best on that matter. The Appropriation Ordinance was read for the second time, amended and passed. The bid of the Ford Paving Company for laying paving around the courthouse square was opened and the city auditor was instructed to advise use that the contract for paving around the courthouse square would be awarded October 8, 1917, and was also instructed to confer with the county commissioners concerning this proposed paving. The bill of the Bismarck Foundry and Welding Company for twenty crossing plates was referred to Commissioner Best. The report of the city weighmaster for the month of September, 1917, was read, received and filed. The Lahr Motor Sales Company presented a communication asking that an alley be opened in block 106 Original Plat 0 (City of Bismarck, also asked that the same be paved with asphalt paving. This communication was accompanied by a petition for paving in the alley also by deeds for a portion of the alley. The salary resolution for the year 1917 was introduced and adopted. A communication was received from the Ford Paving company in which they stated that owing to the court proceedings, labor troubles, shortage of materials, etc., they would be unable to finish their paving contract in the time specified in the contract and asked that this time be extended. Commissioner Kirk moved that the time be extended to July 1, 1918, providing that they work on the paving continuously subject to the approval of the city engineer. Commissioner Best seconded this motion and upon roll call it passed and was adopted. A communication was received from the Northern Pacific Railway company in which they stated that the materials for the gates for the Third street crossing had been ordered and that the gates would be installed as soon as possible. A sanitary sewer assessment for the construction of a sanitary sewer on Avenue A from Raymond street to Hannifin street was approved by the city commission. The following bills were allowed and ordered paid funds permitting: Ford Paving Company, $41,947.51; T. R. Atkinson, 1,500.00; Joe Katz, 21.00; C. C. McLean, 142.63; C. J. Martinson, 101.00; W. A. PUBLIC INVITED TO HEAR NOTED EDUCATOR TALK

Dr. J. I. McBrien of United States Bureau of Education Here This Evening

RURAL SCHOOL RALLY WEEK IN THE SLOPE

Dr. J. I. McBrien, specialist on rural education of the United States bureau of education, Tuesday afternoon addressed the school officers of Burleigh county at their annual meeting held in connection with the rural school rally in progress at McCabe Methodist Episcopal Church.

Dr. McBrien spoke again Tuesday evening when Dr. A. P. Hollis of the agricultural extension department talked on consolidated schools, illustrating his discourse with some interesting views. The institute meetings are being held in the district court room. Eighty-seven teachers are enrolled and the meetings are proving successful.

The present week is rural school week in the Slope county. The Morton county rally was held Monday at Mandan. Today Dr. A. F. Winslow of Boston, Mass., educator and author who is spending six weeks in North Dakota in connection with rural school work, State Superintendent N. C. Macdonald and Governor Frazier addressed meetings at Grant county Wednesday they are scheduled for the Sioux county rally at Fort Yates, and Thursday Dr. McBrien, Dr. Winslow and Supt. Macdonald will talk to Stark county teachers at Dickinson. Friday Dr. McBrien and Supt. Macdonald appear before the Billings county teachers at Medora.

These meetings continue for six weeks, with one week's intermission beginning October 23 to enable education to attend the annual convention of the North Dakota Educational association which is expected to bring 1,700 to 2,000 instructors to Bismarck.

ten years in the state penitentiary. Rader and his wife and child the night of the fire took a train to a small river resort town across the line in Minnesota, and Rader after being released from the state penitentiary, returned to Fargo and fully intended several fires. It is alleged that he then walked back to the town where he had left his wife. The case was a particularly serious one because two young women who roomed with the Raders had no warning and narrowly escaped from the blazing dwelling. Mrs. Rader at the time made a practically complete confession of her husband's guilt and stated that the possible fate of these two girls had worried her and her husband greatly.

CHAIN DOWN CARS OF PRIVATE LINES UNTIL THEY PAY STATE TAX

Auditor Kozitzky Threatens Summary Proceedure Unless Delinquents Produce

Delinquent private car companies which owe the state of North Dakota as much as $1,700 per each in past due taxes will wake up some morning to find some of their refrigerator cars padlocked down to the rails and covered by an attachment from the sheriff, announced State Auditor Karl Kozitzky today. The state auditor is now certifying to the various counties the amounts due from these private car line companies. The intention of the state is not to attach a car loaded with perishable freight, but to hide its time, and when it finds an empty clamp a chain on its wheels and lock it to the rails on some siding, where it will remain until the company satisfies the state's claims.

Uncle Sam's Peace Negotiators in Training

BY GILSON GARDNER.
Staff Special.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 3.—On the theory that in time of war a nation should prepare for peace the administration is grooming two distinguished Americans to sit at the peace table as experts. One is Justice Louis Brandeis of the United States Supreme Court, and the other is Colonel E. M. House of Texas, unofficial friend of the administration. Such is the report, at least, credited in well informed circles.

According to this report, Brandeis cut short his vacation in the Adirondacks and came to Washington at the suggestion of the president. He began equipping a library in an apartment at Stoneleigh Court, to which has been transferred all the books, maps, statistical, sociological and political data available on the Balkans.

COL. E. M. HOUSE

Austria, Prussia, Poland, Finland and Russia.

In other words, the eastern section of the war map has been assigned to Justice Brandeis as a subject on which to make himself an expert. The western section has been assigned to Colonel House.

The creation of these two experts does not indicate the administration considers peace imminent. All official opinion, on the contrary, is that the war must go on, possibly for two years. This country has only just begun to get ready to fight.

However, it is obvious there will be an end to the war some time, and that when that time comes it will be highly important to have ready to join in the peace conference American delegates who will know what the conference is about.

Few Americans know anything about the highly complicated race problems involved in the European military, political, and religious war. Any discussion of terms of final settlement will require an exhaustive knowledge of European history. It will require, also, that the peace delegate be posted as to the past five years. The Balkan states were known as "the powder magazine of Europe." Countries like Russia which have a state religion bring the church into the negotiations. Justice Brandeis has some knowledge of French and German. He is noted also as one of the most successful negotiators in the country.

Colonel House has also acquired fame as a wise giver of advice. He was described by President Wilson as "eyes and ears" for the administration, and at various times has gone abroad to be "eyes and ears" on peace and war.

When the time comes the United States therefore, will have two men thoroughly equipped to grapple with any peace table problems.

F. O. B. FACTORY

A motor truck must submit, and PASS, the acid test of COST.

That is the test we want you to apply to the one-ton Maxwell truck—its first cost—and its operating cost.

A Maxwell truck—which is a REAL truck, worm-driven—sells at a price that can not be met in any other motor vehicle of like efficiency, durability, and economy.

A Maxwell truck will cover 100 miles in a work day—twice the distance covered by two teams and two drivers.

It will do this at an operating cost of less than that of one team of horses.

Moreover, it is of a size and capacity adapted to the needs of almost every form and phase of commerce, industry, or farming.

The question is not, "Can I afford to have a Maxwell truck?"

The FACT is, Mr. Business Man, you can not afford to be without one.
